Power Packed Questions to Set your 2025 in Motion

Happy New Year!

You've likely found your way here by listening to the She's Marked Podcast, Episode 46 - "Questions to Set Your 2025 in Motion".

Questions are an extraordinary way to gain insight and clarity on where you've been, who you are, and where you're going. And being only days into 2025, is there really a better time of year to home in on this?

Most of the questions I've researched and drawn from other sources (Brian Kight), and some are personal questions that I have developed on my own.

Grab a highlighter, pen and paper (or a cherished journal, like the "Marinate in the Wait" Signature Quote Journal from The MRKD Store) and set aside time to dive deep into your heart as you answer fully and honestly. Pray over gray areas and stray areas. Praise concerning victories. Continue drawing guidance and strength from the Holy Spirit as you navigate the gift of life and territories that He has called you to.

Growing in Grace,

Hannah
